

Mansfield High School:

We have 6 backpacks left, fully stocked plus some individual supplies and plenty of headphones. I would say we're pretty set, other than I'd love some of those wish-list items like agendas/calendars, water bottles, or lunch boxes if possible.

Our school supply/wish list:

1" binders
Binder dividers
Spiral bound notebooks
Composition notebooks
Plastic folders
Pens/pencils
Plastic folders
Graphing calculator
Pencil case/holder

Agenda books/calendars (students are encouraged to use google now so we have no hard copy agendas but some students do better with a hard copy version)

Headphones (we gave out a lot this past year but had a big box so we might not need more)

Lunch boxes - we gave out the two we had last year - we wouldn't need many if free lunch continues but it's nice to have a couple available if needed

Water bottles (we get this request a lot and have none remaining)

Qualters Middle School:

Would love 5 to 10 backpacks. If possible, could we request smaller sizes? (We are well stocked with big backpacks, but some of our 6th graders may find them a bit too big.)

For supplies, we gratefully request:

- Water bottles
- 1" binders
- Folders
- Colored pencils
- Simple calculators
- Ear buds / headphones
- Pens/pencils
- Rulers

Jordan/Jackson Elementary:

They indicated they are all set for backpacks but would welcome any supplies that are normally donated.

Robinson Elementary:

We probably have about 20 empty backpacks and about 4 that are stocked with supplies. I don't really think we gave out any last year...as a school we purchase all the supplies for students anyways. We certainly could always use a few more that are stocked with supplies like crayons, pencils, colored pencils, markers, pencil case, lunch boxes
