

The annual Greek Festival returns to St. Augustine on October 7-9, to celebrate the cultural and historical importance of Greek influence in the nation's oldest city. Hosted by the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, the popular festival offers the Greek cultural experience of traditional music, folk dance, and delicious cuisine, giving visitors alike an opportunity for the Greek experience.

Opa*, the Greek expression of good cheer, often used during dancing, expressing fun and excitement, defines the Greek Festival. This event is an experience with Greek food, music, dancing, and more. On site dining will take place at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, located at 2940 County Road 214 in St. Augustine, Florida.

Join us on Saturday, October 8, 11 am-7 pm for the Opa experience, and on Sunday, October 9, the public is invited to participate in ecclesiastical services beginning at 8:30 a.m. with the festival. continuing 12-4 pm. October 7 will be "Friday to go" with pre-orders only scheduled for pick up between 4-8 pm.

Favorites are available in large pan size for pre-order and will be available for Friday pickup. These include moussaka, pastitsio, dolmades, spanakopita, baklava and more. Check out the menu online www.staugustinegreekfestival.com. Your favorite Greek dishes and pastries will be available. This year, the ever favorite loukoumades (fried dough), the popular Opa Taverna, and Kafenio (café) will resume Saturday and Sunday! Church tours will also be available.
