

Saint George Classical Readers

Our Next Read - The Iliad by Homer

An Opportunity to Read the Classics

We are a group of readers that gather together to read and discuss classical works of literature. In our conversations we place the work of literature under discussion in its historical and intellectual context, and engage with these edifying texts with reverence and humility. We come to learn from them; for, they have much to teach us if we but give them our attention.
