

A future with less plastic? We can have it. If we so choose.

Join us for a special screening of the Emmy-Award Winning PBS documentary short film We're All Plastic People Now.

Sunday, April 6
12pm to 1pm
in the Church Library

Plastic is everywhere from the depths of the ocean to the air we breathe, the water we drink and the foods we eat. Quietly, and relentlessly, plastic makes its way into our bodies.

We're All Plastic People Now investigates the disturbing pervasiveness of plastic pollution in our lives, including its impact on communities, the ocean and our own bodies. This groundbreaking film reveals the dangers and health consequences of plastics on four generations of family members – from infants to elders. The results are alarming and show that in an era of throw-away ease, plastics and convenience have cost us our well-being. What can we, as individuals, do to protect ourselves, our families, and our planet? Plenty.

Join us for the illuminating film, narrated by actor Ted Danson. Run time 56 minutes. Fellowship and light snacks to follow.

Presented by the Caring for God's Creation ministry.
