

Wisdom Leads a Soul to God

REFLECTIONS ON LIVING A HEAVENLY
LIFE ON EARTH

Saturday, March 29 12:30–4:30 PM
SS. Peter & Paul Orthodox Church
54 Park Avenue, Meriden, Connecticut

A Lenten Retreat with Rev. George Parsenios, PhD
Professor of New Testament, Holy Cross School of Theology

Free to all—but please sign up in advance:
<https://sspeterpaul.org/event>

All are also invited to a Memorial Liturgy at 9:30, followed by a simple meal about 11:30.

Rev. George Parsenios, the pastor of St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church in Lexington, MA, is Professor of New Testament at Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, where he has also served as Academic Dean. Prior to coming to Holy Cross, he was Professor of New Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary for 20 years, and taught at St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary for a decade. He is the author of three books and several essays on New Testament themes, and is currently translating St. John Chrysostom's 12 Catechetical Homilies into English for St. Vladimir's Seminary Press. He and Presvytera Maureen have three children.

