MESSAGE

BY HIS ALL-HOLINESS

ECUMENICAL PATRIARCH BARTHOLOMEW

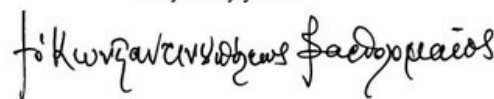

It is a particular joy to endorse and bless the composition of a specially commissioned icon for use in services, for the uplifting of prayer, and on occasions for raising awareness for the protection and preservation of God's unique gift of creation, as well as for presentation and exhibition at Point Loma Nazarene University.

There is no doubt that the specific images that we hold about our world and our planet ultimately determine and define the way that we treat and respect their ecological properties and natural resources. This work by iconographer Aidan Hart provides an alternative vision of the world in its theological and liturgical dimensions, while incorporating scientific and spiritual perspectives of creation.

It is our hope and prayer that this icon will offer a persuasive reminder and distinctive paradigm of the way we are called—indeed, created and mandated—to identify with and relate to creation.

At the Ecumenical Patriarchate, on the 23rd of July 2024

Prayerfully yours,

† BARTHOLOMEW

Archbishop of Constantinople-New Rome and Ecumenical Patriarch
