

Prevention Point Philadelphia (PPP)

<https://ppponline.org/>

Prevention Point Philadelphia is a nonprofit public health organization providing harm reduction services to Philadelphia and the surrounding area. Serving thousands of people experiencing homelessness and substance use disorder every year, they need some items.

Wound care is one service that is offered. The waiting line for this service can be lengthy. PPP workers have found that providing manicures to those waiting for wound care makes the time go by faster and encourages those needing care to wait for the service.
